

Contents

Introduction . . . . .	1
Klaas Landsman, Ellen van Wolde and Noortje ter Berg
Conceptual and Historical Reflections on Chance (and Related Concepts) . . . . .	9
Christoph H. Lüthy and Carla Rita Palmerino
The Mathematical Foundations of Randomness . . . . .	49
Sebastiaan A. Terwijn
Randomness and the Madness of Crowds . . . . .	67
Utz Weitzel and Stephanie Rosenkranz
Randomness and the Games of Science . . . . .	91
Jelle J. Goeman
The Fine-Tuning Argument: Exploring the Improbability of Our Existence . . . . .	111
Klaas Landsman
Chance in the Hebrew Bible: Views in Job and Genesis 1 . . . . .	131
Ellen van Wolde
Happiness and Invulnerability from Chance: Western and Eastern Perspectives . . . . .	151
Johannes M.M.H. Thijssen and David R. Loy
The Experience of Coincidence: An Integrated Psychological and Neurocognitive Perspective . . . . .	171
Michiel van Elk, Karl Friston and Harold Bekkering
When Chance Strikes: Random Mutational Events as a Cause of Birth Defects and Cancer . . . . .	187
Han G. Brunner

Chance, Variation and the Nature of Causality in Ecological Communities. . . . . . 197
Hans de Kroon and Eelke Jongejans

The Size of History: Coincidence, Counterfactuality and Questions of Scale in History . . . . . 215
Olivier Hekster

Accidental Harm Under (Roman) Civil Law. . . . . . 233
Corjo Jansen

Taming Chaos. Chance and Variability in the Language Sciences . . . . . 249
Roeland van Hout and Pieter Muysken

Biographies. . . . . . 267

Titles in this Series . . . . . 273