Knowledge and Space

This book series entitled “Knowledge and Space” is dedicated to topics dealing with the production, dissemination, spatial distribution, and application of knowledge. Recent work on the spatial dimension of knowledge, education, and science; learning organizations; and creative milieus has underlined the importance of spatial disparities and local contexts in the creation, legitimation, diffusion, and application of new knowledge. These studies have shown that spatial disparities in knowledge and creativity are not short-term transitional events but rather a fundamental structural element of society and the economy.

The volumes in the series on Knowledge and Space cover a broad range of topics relevant to all disciplines in the humanities and social sciences focusing on knowledge, intellectual capital, and human capital: clashes of knowledge; milieus of creativity; geographies of science; cultural memories; knowledge and the economy; learning organizations; knowledge and power; ethnic and cultural dimensions of knowledge; knowledge and action; and mobilities of knowledge. These topics are analyzed and discussed by scholars from a range of disciplines, schools of thought, and academic cultures.

Knowledge and Space is the outcome of an agreement concluded by the Klaus Tschira Foundation and Springer in 2006.

Acknowledgments

The editors thank the Klaus Tschira Stiftung for funding the symposia and the Knowledge and Space book series. The staff of the Klaus Tschira Stiftung and Studio Villa Bosch have been crucially important for these symposia. Together with all the authors in this volume, we are especially grateful to James Bell for his tireless dedication as technical editor. Volker Schniepp in the Department of Geography at Heidelberg University and Mark Szegner in the Department of Geography at Loughborough University were enormously helpful in ensuring that the figures and maps met the publication standards. We also thank the students of Heidelberg University's Department of Geography who helped to organize the tenth symposium and prepare this publication, especially Helen Dorn, Claudia Kämper, Andreas Kalström, Laura Krauß, Julia Lekander, Solveig Liefefett, Pia Liepe, Anna Mateja Schmidt, Florence Wieder, and Angela Zissmann. We dedicate this volume to the late Klaus Tschira (1940–2015) to express our sincere gratitude for his outstanding long-term support of research and knowledge exchange in geography and associated disciplines.
