Part 3: Read the passage and choose the correct answers. (5 questions – 0.2 mark/question)

A month ago, I had no idea that on a Saturday afternoon in November I'd be hanging 30 metres above the ground and enjoying it. Now I looked down at the river far below me and realised why people love rock-climbing.

My friend Matt and I had arrived at the Activity Centre on Friday evening. The accommodation wasn't wonderful, but we had everything we needed (beds, blankets, food), and we were pleased to be out of the city and in the fresh air.

On Saturday morning we met the other ten members of our group. Cameron had come along with two friends, Kevin and Simon, while sisters Carole and Lynn had come with Amanda. We had come from various places and none of us knew the area.

We knew we were going to spend the weekend outdoors, but none of us was sure exactly how. Half of us spent the morning caving while the others went rock-climbing and then we changed at lunchtime. Matt and I went to the caves first. Climbing out was harder than going in, but after a good deal of pushing, we were out at last covered in mud but pleased and excited by what we'd done.

Part 4: Read the passage and choose the correct answers. (5 questions – 0.2 mark/question)

Rachel Carson was born in 1907 in Springdale, Pennsylvania. She studied biology at college and zoology at Johns Hopkins University, where she received her master's degree in 1933. In 1936, she was hired by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, where she worked most of her life.

Carson's first book, Under the Sea Wind, was published in 1941. It received excellent reviews, but sales were poor until it was reissued in 1952. In that year she published The Sea Around Us, which provided a fascinating look beneath the ocean's surface, emphasizing human history as well as geology and marine biology. Her imagery and language had a poetic quality. Carson consulted no less than 1,000 printed sources. She had voluminous correspondence and frequent discussions with experts in the field. However, she always realized the limitations of her nontechnical readers.

In 1962, Carson published Silent Spring, a book that sparked considerable controversy. It proved how much harm was done by the uncontrolled, reckless use of insecticides. She detailed how they poison the food supply of animals, kill birds and fish, and contaminate human food. At the time, spokesmen for the chemical industry mounted personal attacks against Carson and issued propaganda to indicate that her findings were flawed. However, her work was proved by a 1963 report of the President's Science Advisory Committee.

The passage mainly discusses Rachel Carson's work

- A. as a writer
- B. at college
- C. at the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service
- D. as a researcher

ANSWER: A

According to the passage, what did Carson primarily study at Johns Hopkins University?

- A. zoology
- B. oceanography
- C. literature
- D. history

ANSWER: A

When she published her first book, Carson was closest to the age of

- A. 34
- B. 45
- C. 29
- D. 26

ANSWER: A

It can be inferred from the passage that in 1952, Carson's book Under the Sea Wind

- A. sold many copies
- B. was outdated
- C. was not praised by critics
- D. became more popular than her other books

ANSWER: A

According to the passage, Silent Spring is primarily

- A. a warning about the dangers of misusing insecticides
- B. an illustration of the benefits of the chemical industry
- C. an attack on the use of chemical preservatives in food
- D. a discussion of the hazards insects pose to the food supply
